

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

A PRELIMINARY GENEALOGY OF THE DYAR FAMILY.

The name Dyer is a common one in America, but only rarely has the modification of the spelling into Dyar taken place. The only instance of importance that is known to me is that occurring in the line here partially treated, which took place about the year 1700.

The name is an old English one, formerly spelled Dyer or Dyre. Dyers were settled in Gastonbury, Somersetshire, before the Conquest. After the defeat of the Saxons at Senlac, near Hastings, Siward Dyer and his two sons, Siward Beam and Wright, returned to Gastonbury. Siward Dyre was Earl of Northumbria about 1036. He was descended from Alfred the Great, and is said to have been the original of the Siward of Shakespeare's "Macbeth." Sir James Dyer, of Round Hill, Somersetshire, was Speaker of the House of Commons and Chief Judge of the Court of Common Pleas in the time of Queen Elizabeth. He died at Staunton, Hunterdonshire, in 1581, without issue, the baronetcy descending to a nephew. Sir Richard Dyer, of Wincanton, Somersetshire, is also mentioned. The last of the baronets of Great Staughton, descended from him, died in 1776, and the representation of the baronetcy passed to America, but has not been claimed. Several Dyers came from England to America in the very early days of colonization. It is with Thomas Dyer, of Shipton Mallett, near Gastonbury, Somersetshire, that the line here traced starts. He came to New England about 1635 and settled in Weymouth, Massachusetts.

FIRST GENERATION.

1. THOMAS DYER, 1612-1676.

Born at Shipton Mallett, in Somersetshire, near Gastonbury, in England, in 1612. He came to New England in 1632 according to one record, though it was probably later, but before 1640. Agnes Reed,* whom he had courted in England, moved to America with her parents, and Thomas went down to the ship to say farewell, but was induced to accompany them, which he did without returning to take leave of his own family. He married Agnes Reed in 1640, settled in Weymouth, Mass., where his eight children were born. His wife died December 4, 1667. He married again Elizabeth Frasy, who was a widow before marriage and outlived him. He was a cloth worker by trade. Was freeman in Weymouth in 1644, a deacon in the church under the Rev. Samuel Torrey, and died November 6, 1676, leaving "a very good estate" (£2103 14 7) to his widow, children, and each of his grandchildren. The will of Elizabeth Dyer, his widow, who died December 19, 1678 (will probated at Boston, 1679), mentions her son, Abraham Harding, daughters, Elizabeth Addams and Prudence. Her son, John Harding, of Medfield, and Joseph Dyer, of Weymouth, were executors. His children were:

*Or Alice Read, according to the Poole genealogy (Ithaca, N. Y., 1893).

7. THOMAS DYER, 1651-1673.

He was born in Weymouth, Mass. According to Col. Asa White, who wrote in 1803, he "settled in Plymouth and left a posterity there," but I have been unable to trace it.

Born in Weymouth, Mass., where he settled. He was freeman in 1678, and a deacon of the church. He was twice married; first to Hannah Frazy, by whom he had three children. She died October 27, 1682. His second wife was Hannah Baxter, who outlived him, dying September 19, 1726. His will, made in 1701, names his brother, Benjamin Dyer, and Rev. Joseph Baxter overseers. His children were:

THIRD GENERATION.

11. JOHN DYER, 1672—.

He married Hannah Morton, June 6, 1694. The record of this line is too incomplete for the usual treatment. Sons were probably William, John and Charles. William married Hannah Cotton Phillips about 1730, and Hannah Howland about 1735. His children were William (1731), Hannah (1736), and Hannah (1737). The last married Stephen Miller, of Milton, and had nine children. John married Hannah Morton in 1734 and had a son, John, born in 1735, who married Mary Barnes in 1757, with son, John, born in 1758. Charles married Lucy Cotton and had a son, Charles (1738), and daughter, Lucy (1741). The son married Bethiah Cotton and bought land in Plymouth, Mass., in 1774. His children were Charles, Mary, Lucy, Martha Cotton, Margaret and Bethiah. The first two were not married; Lucy married Joseph Bartlett, Martha Cotton married Joseph Holmes, while Margaret and Bethiah both married Jeremiah Holbrook.

He was born in Boston and became a mariner. He was married to Lydia Hough, December 19, 1717, by the Rev. John Webb. In this year he bought a house on Hepburn Lane, and with his mother and three sisters sold four acres of marsh in Charlestown, but subsequent records are lacking. He probably died early, perhaps not far from 1720. His wife survived till 1774; her will, probated August 4 of that year, mentions her son, Joseph, and granddaughter, Lydia. Here originates the spelling DYAR. His children were:

Joseph, born February 7, 1719, died —, 1780.

45

William, born April 15, 1721, died —.

46

She was born in Weymouth, Mass., and married David Carver, of that place. Three children are recorded.

26. BENJAMIN DYER, 1688-1774.

Was born in Weymouth, Mass., where he lived. He married Sarah Sawyer, of Hingham, Mass., June 24, 1708. He left a will which was probated at Boston in 1774, in which he remembered his wife, Sarah, her brother, Jonathan Gulliver (this must have been a brother of his son-in-law, not of his wife); his daughters, Mary Rawson and Sarah, and his grandson, Asa White. His wife died shortly before him, October 12, 1773. His children were:

Joseph, born August 8, 1711, died August 20, 1774.	47

He was a shoemaker by trade; became a selectman in the church, and a colonel in the French and Indian war. He married Lydia Backus, October 24, 1717, and had four children. FOURTH GENERATION.

45. JOSEPH DYAR, 1719-1780.

He was born in Boston, Mass., and may be regarded as the founder of the DYAR family, since with him and his descendants the name is consistently spelled with the letter a. He was a cooper and had a shop in Ballard's wharf, Boston. He married Abiel Marston, March 12, 1740, by whom he had nine children. She died after 1762, and he married Amey Bumstead, January 23, 1766, by whom he had four children.
